OVERCOME BY THE HEAT, MISS VAN WYCK FALLS FROM WINDOW OF HOME

Miss Garretta Van Wyck, thirty-one years old, fell out of a fourth story window at her home, No. 36 West Fifth street, to-day and is at Flower Hospital in a critical condition. She is the daughter of J. A. Van Wyck, connected with Park & Tilford, who is a cousin of former Mayor Van Wyck and Justice Augustus Van Wyck.

She was leaning out of the bathroom window watching the capers of some puppies and kittens in the back yard when she called the housekeeper, Mrs. Mary Winston, to see them. Mrs. Winston found her laughing and much interested, but cautioned her to get out of the strong sunlight, since she had suffered a partial prostration from the heat a week ago yesterday during an automobile trip.

The housekeeper went downstairs and a few minutes later heard a crash in the yard. She ran out and found the young woman unconscious. Miss Van Wyck's mother and Dr. Nesbit of No. 34 West Fifth street were summoned. The physician found she had a fractured skull and she was taken to the hospital, where it is believed she will die.

CECILIE'S GOLD SAFELY DEPOSITED IN SUB-TREASURY

Treasure Worth $13,000,000 Brought From Bar Harbor in Three Steel Cars.

Three steel baggage cars on the first section of the New Haven train from Bar Harbor, Me., arriving at the Grand Central Station this morning contained more than $13,000,000 that has passed through varied adventures in the last two weeks in the unsuccessful effort to land it in Europe. The treasure was removed yesterday from the strong rooms of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie at Bar Harbor, where the liner put in early last Tuesday morning after dashing back across the Atlantic to escape seizure at the hands of hostile warships. The revenue cutter Androscogin transported it across Frenchman's Bay to the Maine Central, under guard of an armed squad of United States marines. Every precaution was taken for the safety of the forty tons of gold and silver. All the way to New York another train preceded the section carrying the treasure, while the second section trailed it. Each of the three cars contained it guards furnished by the American Express Company. All were armed with rifles and some had revolvers strapped around their waists. A great crowd of curious passengers gathered as the train came to a stop. They thronged the doors and peered in at the unusual array of herring kegs packed with gold. The yellow stuff could not be seen, but the silver bars were laid out in rows across the width of the car. It was necessary to call a squad of station guards to disperse the mob eager to see the fortune they had traveled with from Maine. There were 235 kegs containing the gold coins amounting to $10,769,545.36, while there were 600 bars of silver totalling $2,400,000. The first steel car carried 100 kegs and 65 silver bars; the second had 135 kegs and 85 bars; the last car carried only silver, there being 450 bars, covering the floor in rows. The train was due here at 7:30

GERMAN CRUISER KARLSRUHE BATTLES WITH FOUR WARSHIPS, DISABLES ONE, OFF BAHAMAS

One Big French Force Is Reported to Have Reached Liege and Joined the Belgians in Cutting off the German Retreat—Kaiser Said to Have Lost 8,000 More Killed and 1,700 Prisoners.

Gen. Joffre's French Army Spreads Over Alsace Like a Huge Fan—Kaiser Reported at the Front to Lead in Forcing Passage Through Belgium and Luxemburg—Austrian Fleet to Aid German Cruisers.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 10.—French and Belgian cavalry, supported by field artillery and mounted infantry, are to-day attacking the German invading army north of the Meuse.

They are reported here to have penetrated the German line of communication at several points and to have blown up bridges, destroyed the railroad tracks, and so interfered with transport that the German army corps at Liege are in danger of being cut off from all supplies.

Fighting at Liege itself, the War Office says, is confined to a long range artillery duel between the forts and the German siege guns mounted in a circle in front of the forts. According to the officials here the Germans have apparently abandoned the plan of carrying the forts by storm.

They say the forts can hold out indefinitely as they are well supplied with food and ammunition. Each has a separate water supply.

By a series of dashes the French and Belgian cavalry and their supports have penetrated far north of the Meuse with the result that they are harassing the German base toward the Dutch border. The Germans because of this have been compelled to abandon their attack along the River Ourthe, which joins the Meuse a mile from Liege and are concentrating to oppose the raiding column.

It is believed here that the allied army is about to assume the offensive.

All the approaches to Brussels are well guarded to prevent anything in the nature of a surprise from reconnoitering parties of German cavalry. Small bodies of Uhlans have been signalled in all directions. Generally they had lost their bearings and surrendered immediately on being challenged.

The Liege garrison with its reinforcements retreated, the War Office says, for "strategic reasons," and is now falling back on Namur, where the French, Belgian and British armies are in force. The check to Germany has enabled France to get her reinforcements in position and Germany will have to fight every inch of the Belgian territory advancing south.

Patriotic enthusiasm is running high. The Belgian Minister of War announces that 40,000 volunteers have presented themselves for service with the colors.

After the German troops reached Warsage in the province of Liege it is reported they assembled all the inhabitants and chose fourteen from among them. Of these eight are said to have been shot and two hanged.

The Mayor was arrested but afterward liberated by the German officers who had been his guests the day before.

Other instances of alleged outrages by German soldiers are related in the Belgian governmental press.

Cruiser Disabled in Battle Off the Bahamas

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Aug. 10.—The German cruiser Karlsruhe took on board 900 tons of coal here yesterday and sailed at half-past eight in the evening for an unknown destination. As she left the harbor she put on full speed and all her lights were extinguished.

The captain of the German war vessel reported that he was in an engagement last Friday night off the Bahamas when the Karlsruhe was pursued by three English cruisers and a French cruiser.

He said that he had opened with his entire batteries, and that he believes he
